RECAP:

In a non-election year, news still abounded as items of international interest, such as Watergate, the comet Kohoutek, the Middle East conflict, and the energy crisis, began to affect the lives of students, teachers, and parents. Perhaps these top news stories had personal appeal. Midnight, Sunday,

18-year-old majority

August 26, caused a celebration for some as heralded as New Year's Eve. A state law went into effect which lowered the legal age of adulthood to 18 years of age, making legislation consistent with the 26th Amendment which provided for the 18-year-old vote. Legal sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages by persons 18 or over was the major effect of the law. Seniors turning 18 reached new status as they were no longer minors and could enjoy all of the grants and privileges of adults. As with all newly-acquired rights, responsibilities must follow. Boys still had to register for the draft and registration was required for voting. With many opportunities now open for them, the 18-year-old students began the maturation process by facing self-responsibility for their handling, or mishandling, of adult rights.

Women's fight against sexual discrimination gathered momentum in September as spectators packed the Houston Astrodome to watch Billie Jean King and Bobby Riggs compete in a three out of five set, $100,000 winner-take-all tennis match, that was billed as "The Battle of the Sexes". Following a thorough whipping of Margaret Court, the 55-year-old Riggs challenged Ms. King to defend women in a five set match against him. After a tremendous amount of publicity, Billie Jean was carried by female athletes into the Astrodome on a feathered sedan chair. Before beginning, King presented Riggs a "male chauvinist" pig while he gave her a huge Sugar Daddy sucker. All jokes aside, they then stepped onto the court and Ms. King won in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, to successfully uphold female pride and, more importantly, to increase the winnings for women players. The series may be viewed as tied at 1-1 or with women holding the title. Whatever, Mr. Rigg's latest challenge went to 19-year-old Chris Evert as he continues to hustle and make money at it.

Disguised as plumbers, Republican-hired spies broke in to Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate Hotel in Washington. Congressional committees and a special Watergate Committee investigated the break-in and tried to determine an answer to the key question of whether President Nixon had any prior knowledge of it or the cover-up attempt. Fired White House counsel John W. Dean III, the first to appear before Sam Ervin's Watergate Committee, testified that Nixon was involved in the scandal which the President denied. Judge John J. Sirica presided over the trial of the Watergate Seven and the quest for the White House tapes, recorded conversations between President Nixon and his aides. A subpoena was issued by Prosecutor Archibald Cox for court possession of the tapes, which the President ignored on the grounds of Executive privilege and then illegally fired Cox. Later, when Nixon turned the tapes over to the committee, it was discovered that one tape had an 18 minute erasure, bringing Presidential secretary Rose Mary Woods to court to try to explain the erasure, guessed to have been technically erased five to nine times. Impeachment talk arose from the President's actions concerning Watergate and the revelation of his incorrect income tax returns. Evasion of income taxes caused Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to resign from office. While no impeachment proceedings have occurred at this writing, it is certain that the effects of Watergate will be devastating. Already the scandals have cost the administration these officials: Attorneys General John Mitchell and Elliot Richardson, FBI Acting Director L. Patrick Gray, Deputy Attorney General William Ruckelshaus, and special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox.

Problems Hint of Sci-Fi World

Middle East

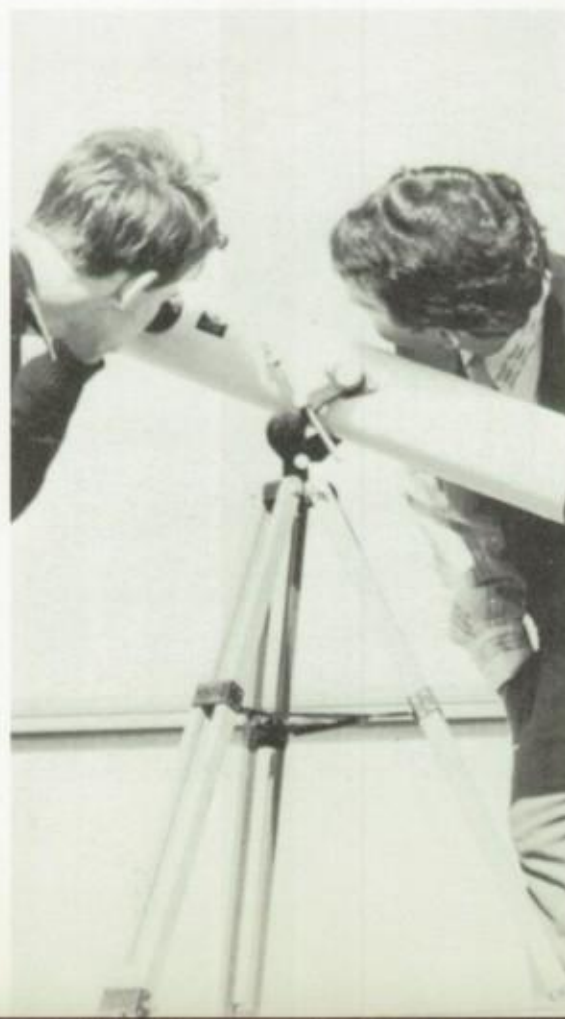

Mysterious fires, bright lights, and car troubles were some of the happenings attributed to supernatural forces as a rash of UFO sightings were reported in early fall. People told accounts of a bright light in the road ahead causing their car to stall and one man witnessed creatures with green scales setting fire to his car which burned cool and blue. The most attention-getting account came from two men in Mississippi who reportedly were taken aboard a spaceship, laid on a table, and had a series of tests run on them.

During the reverent Jewish observance of Yom Kippur, Arabs attacked across the Suez Canal and at Golan Heights, trying to regain territories Israel captured in the six day war of 1967. The Middle East has been a sight of war since 1967 but the Israelis were surprised by the holiday Arab attack. At an expense of 1,854 men and $5.5 billion worth of equipment, fuel, and ammunition, Israelis swept across the canal and trapped the Egyptian 3rd Army. They drove the Syrians out of Golan Heights and toward Damascus before a United Nations cease-fire on October 20. Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan were criticized for their passive handling of the attack and an election was held where a new form of government was set up. Peace negotiations are being conducted presently between the countries involved with U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger negotiating the main points of the agreement.

On its 75,000 year orbit, the newly discovered comet, Kohoutek, Astronomer's luck hit around the new year as both Kohoutek and Skylab 3 were visible.

After many student polls, a place was designated and students were told that with a stamped ID they could smoke during breaks.

Into September, workmen hurried to finish the installation and insulation of new heating and cooling units.

Haley's Comet, was closely observed by astronauts Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue, and Edward G. Gibson aboard Skylab 3 on their 84-day flight. As Kohoutek made its turn around the sun it was visible at sunrise and sunset. Cloud covers prevented observation most of the holiday time when its arc brought it closest to the earth. The head of the comet, believed to be made of ice, diminished in size and the tail lost most of its brilliance, greatly disappointing those who woke up early to see it.

A big facelift took place over the summer as 426 tons of air conditioning was installed and new ceilings were given to halls and rooms. Construction continued after school started and soon EHS was provided with all the cooling and heating needed; until the energy crisis struck. During the winter, school thermostats were set at 68 degrees, bringing out the coats, jackets, and sweaters that might have stayed at home. The major shortages were on gasoline and home heating fuel. Measures to cut fuel consumption included closing gas stations on Sundays, reducing speed limits, cutting airline flights, fuel cutbacks for home, industry, and business, and the curtailment of outdoor Christmas lighting. Carpooling and riding the bus became a part of the American way of life again. The price of petroleum products, even plastics and polyester knits, rose sharply. The Dallas Fort Worth Regional Airport opened in January but was not up to full function due to flight cutbacks. Talks of gas rationing by coupons to licensed drivers 18 or over caused the most dissension among non-working students.

Energy Crisis

With the thermostat set at 68 degrees, the heating capacity was insufficient enough to wear a coat in class.

ACTIVITIES

Participation in School Makes Year More Memorable

Various extra-curricular activities maintain student interest and enthusiasm throughout the year. The purpose of activities, all planned and performed by students, is to encourage maximum participation among a maximum number of students. In addition, activities and special days break the monotony of the long weeks and create enduring memories.

Bryce Moon displays his Warlock winning costume.

YEAR STARTS OUT SMILING

Bright eyes and wide smiles proved everyone remained happy even during the most confusing week of the school year, the first one. Student Council's first activity was naming the opening of school as Howdy Doody Week. (2) Greg Wilkerson and Mindy Crouch are named Mr. and Miss Howdy Doody for their friendliness during the week. (1) Howdy Doody runners-up also chosen for their outstanding congeniality are Jeff Crabaugh, Nellwyn Dunham, Rod Booker, and Dareta Eaves. (3) A few laughs always help relieve tensions, especially those of the first week.

YELLING

REVIVES TEAM

Pep Rallies managed to maintain high school spirit in spite of lagging Bulldog scores. The variety of groups participating in the pep rallies increased enthusiasm. (4) Following Bulldog tradition, Danny Branch and other varsity football players step out of the dog house to be introduced. (5) Varsity cheerleaders, responsible for planning and promoting pep rallies and spirit, get the cheering crowd going with a new chant. (6) As always, The Spirit Club has a skit for each pep rally. This skit is a humorous funeral for an Alvarado Indian. (7) Dancing and smiling, the Royal Majestics entertain at pep rally.

(1) The Winning Senior team with the heroic coaches. (2) Debbie Richter strides big for the Seniors. (3) Some fast Junior ball-carrying is done by Cheryl Lanco. (4) The Junior team and coaches.

FOOTBALL SEASON'S BEST

Everman's Sports Season reached it's height in the annual Powder Puff game on September 28. The Senior girls retained their two-year Powder Puff Champ title by jolting the Juniors with a 14 to 6 score. For inspiration each team chose a Sweet-heart. The lucky "gals" named Sweet-hearts at halftime are Senior boy Mark McCullers, and Junior boy Mike LaDuke. Not only is the Powder Puff game an exhibition of upper class rivalries, but also it is one of the biggest crowd drawers because we are assured of an Everman Victory.

(5) Winners in the highly competitive contest for Junior and Senior Cheerleaders are always sexy and spirited. (6) Junior Marla Pannill gives an example of the fearful expressions of the game. (8) Coach Jerry Steele has an awe inspiring pep talk with his Seniors after their first crowd thrilling touchdown. (9) Susan Polk heads in for big Senior vardage.

BONFIRE IGNITES HOMECOMING SPIRIT

Homecoming Spirit glows as Coach Blevins ignites the Bonfire with the assistance from an Everman Fireman (5). (7) More than outdoing themselves, the Key Club collected enough wood for ten bonfires to make up for those years since the Bonfire of '64. (4) Not only does the Key Club collect wood but they also "donate" a Mansfield City Limit sign and hang a Mansfield player in effigy to make the Bonfire all the more spectacular. (2) Varsity Cheerleaders, silhouetted against a golden glow, cheer "For the purple . . . for the gold!" (1,8) The whole city of Everman watches the fire and supports their home team. (3) Even a visitor from one of the many U.F.O.s seen this fall stops by to watch the giant flame. (9) To complete the entertainment of the night Coach Blevins introduces the Varsity Football Team. (6) An Everman Volunteer Fireman rides herd on the flame.

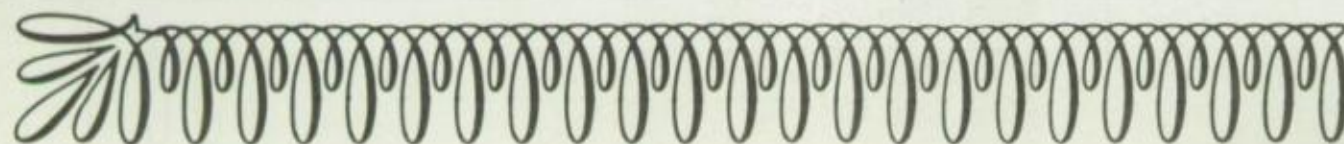

With the players prepared, the floats finished, the queens quivering and the (2,5) campus covered with decorations and throbbing with spirit, Homecoming 1973 gets under way. (1) Sophomore Nominee Susan Polk escorted by Brian Owen is crowned Homecoming Queen during half time. (3) The Coming-Home Queen, also named at half time, is De Anna White. (8) Senior Queen Nominee Terri Weatherly. (6) Junior Queen Nominee Dana Warren. (7) Cristy Cooper, Freshman Queen Nominee. (4) The entire Homecoming Court, Terri Weatherly, Jerry Steele, Dana Warren, Clay Winslett, Susan Polk, Brian Owen, Cristy Cooper, and David Marino watch the second half of the disappointing game.

HOMECOMING HONORS SUSAN

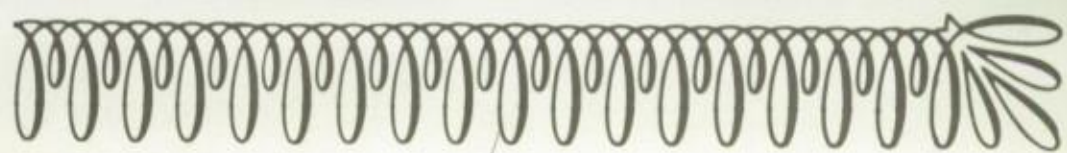

Ducktails and rolled-up bluejeans, bobby socks and ponytails revived the good ole' days of the 30's, 40's and 50's. Sounds of wild rock-and-roll vibrated from the loud speakers, setting the scene for the annual Nostalgia Day. (1) Bobby Merck tries to explain to "Miss Cathy Lou" why the live rat was in her desk. (2) "Dogs, We're Making Eyes at You", provided the music for the Charleston performed by Jan Osier, Carolyn Van Zandt, Cristy Cooper, and Gayla Goldston. (3) Fingers (Steve) Francis blasts his way into the Everman Speak-Easy.

EVERMAN GRAFFITI

RODEO: No. 1

Sport

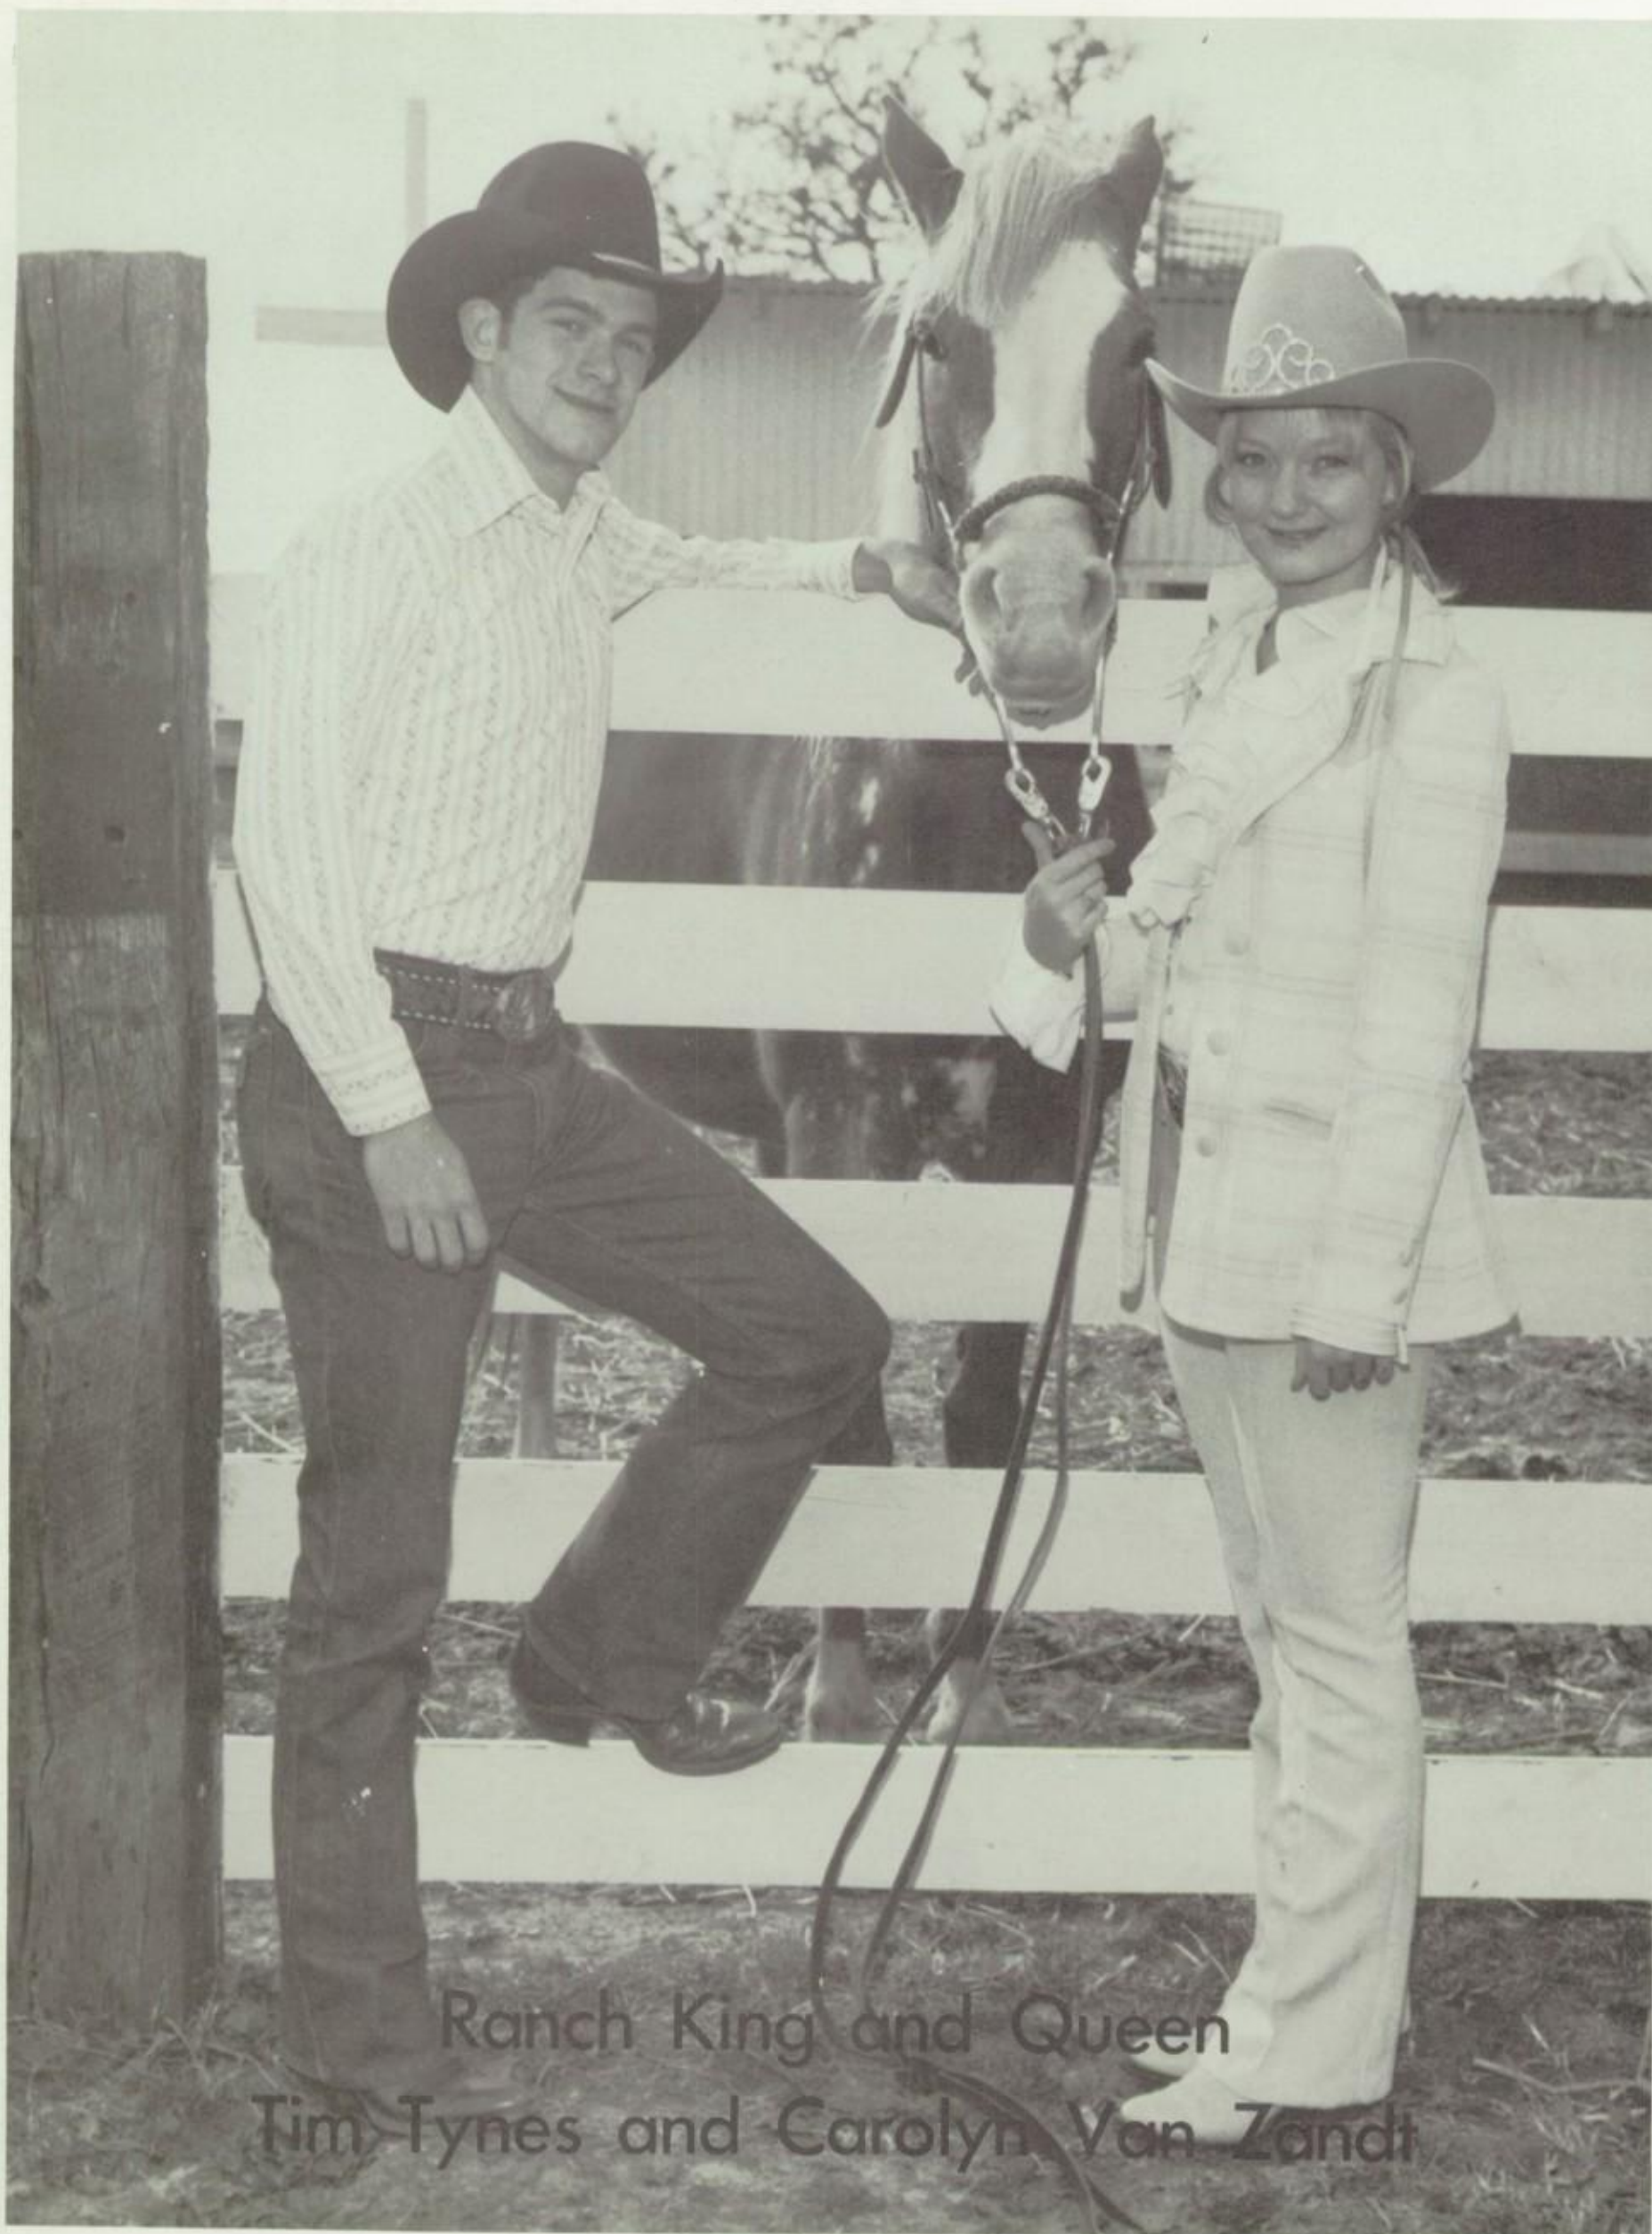

The election of Ranch Day King and Queen was traditionally carried out this year as in the past by selecting a Ranch Day couple according to their country dress and accessories. Carolyn Van Zandt and Tim Tynes displayed unique western appeal. Carolyn in her pink plaid jacket and Tim in his chaps showed there is still a little of the old west in E.H.S.

Mr. E.H.S., voted on by the faculty, was Mike Ausley. Mike has shown his scholastic ability by making the honor roll and by being a member of the National Honor Society. Being a member of the Rodeo Club, United People's Club, and the Beacon Staff shows Mike's active part in school. Mike was also a powerful part of the football team, being a captain and an All District team member. Mike also participates in track meets. Mike, well-liked by the student body was voted Most Friendly this year.

MIKE AUSLEY AND JONI JOHNSON

ARE VOTED MR. AND MISS E.H.S.

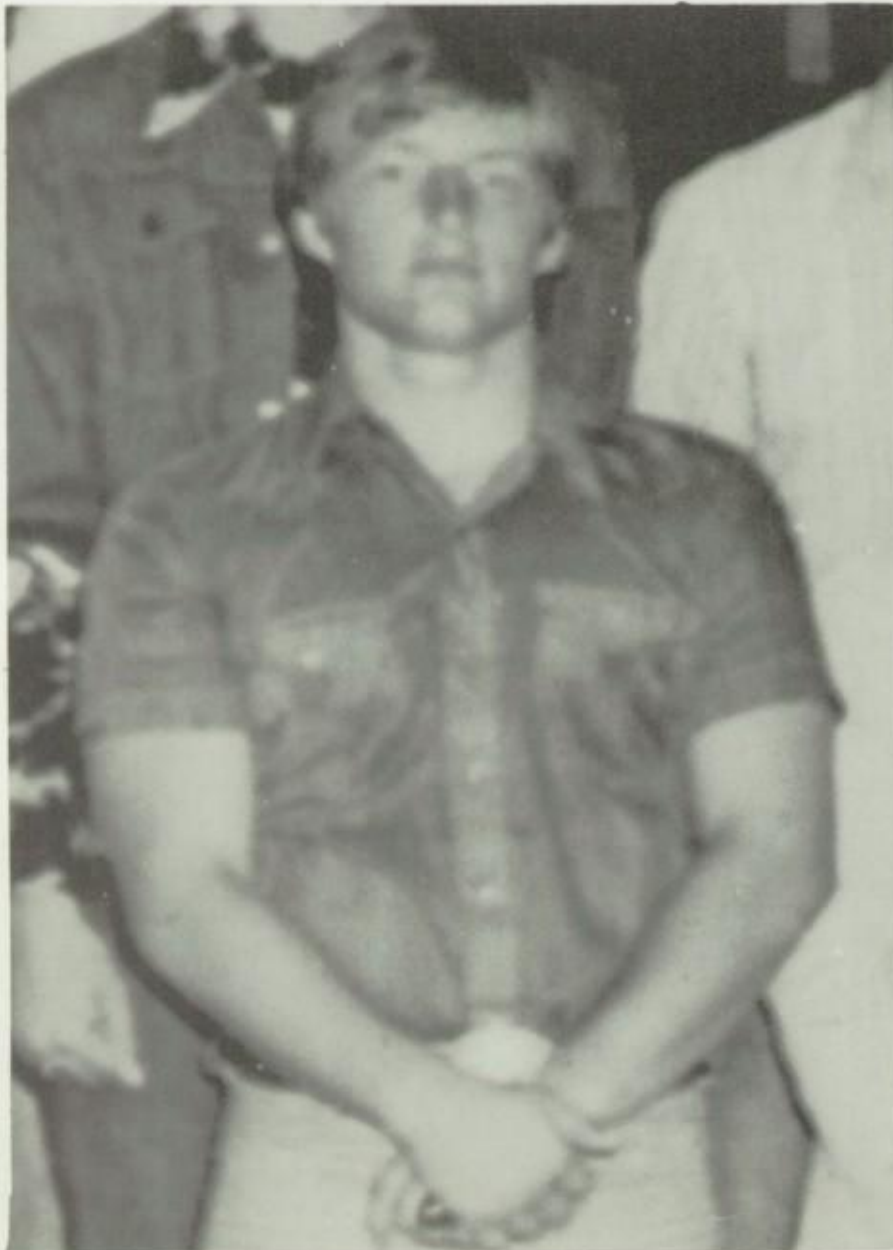

Miss E.H.S., voted on by the faculty, was Joni Johnson. Making the honor roll and being a member of National Honor Society has shown Joni's ability in scholastic matters. Joni has served the school by being on the tennis team and in the photography club. Joni has also worked very hard on Student Council and was President this year. Having a bright smile and warm personality has made Joni one of the most popular girls in Everman.

FRIENDLIEST IN ARE MIKE

Mike Ausley was voted by his fellow students as the Most Friendly Guy at Everman High. Being a class favorite for three years, has shown his friendly touch. Senior Mike Ausley has earned respect from all students by being an active part of the football team, National Honor Society, and Beacon Staff.

BULLDOG COUNTRY AND SUSAN

Susan Polk was voted to be the friendliest girl in Everman High School. Susan was a senior this year and has been active in school by being a star runner on the girl's track team for the past three years. Susan was nominated to ride the Sophomore Homecoming float. As Homecoming Queen, she was escorted by Bryan Owen and crowned by Rob Pittman.

VALENTINE'S DAY

Valentine's Day became a joyous occasion as Student Council distributed love potions and singing telegrams to embarrassed sweethearts who awaited their lover's gift.

Dana, "Remember me when the scar you see."

How did you know Red Hots burn me up?

Why do they always pick on me?

An increasing interest in the accomplishments of ethnic groups has prompted Black History Week, nationally recognized February 10-16. To promote local awareness, the United Peoples' Club posted a bulletin board, and during daily announcements, read stories of prominent Black Americans.

"Silence is golden", prompted Randall Owen to attempt not to talk for a week.

Exhibiting accomplishments in football, baseball, track, rodeo, tennis, and volleyball shows the competitiveness of EHS students.

Emerging in today's society of fashions were platform shoes, blue jeans, and the "long lost dress". For warmth, leather club jackets came in handy. Even though Everman is a small school, students stay up with trends and get involved with activities.

For Tracksters

Mike Ausley puts his full power behind the discus.

Strength, skill, and most of all cooperation are qualities necessary in track to endure the many hours necessary to get in shape. Workouts begin with an early morning cross-country run and end in the afternoon with laps around the track. Aspiring athletes competed in Interscholastic League relays, broad jump, discus, hurdles, shotput, and high jump. TENNIS

Because of recent world-wide publicity of the King-Riggs match, tennis has gained popularity among many people, especially at Everman High School. Like all other sports, tennis demands total player dedication to achieve success. The team practices daily to acquire necessary skills. The top 12 players in the tennis class compete in tournaments and district meets to carry on last year's winning record.

Fifteen determined volleyballers pulled together to defend the pride of a district championship and an undefeated season. With only two returning varsity players and a new coach, Mrs. Keith, the concentration was on adjusting to new situations and rebuilding interest in and support of volleyball. The Fort Worth Stock Show offers extra incentive for the Rodeo Team. The club has maintained its reputation as being the finest team in sportsmanship and giving the utmost effort in every event. The club is proud to display their western attire every day of the year, not only during Stock Show Week. The Rodeo Club officers and many members bring a little of the old west to our halls and their rodeos.

“On With the Show”

“Act well your part, for there the honor lies.” The Agathon Players have undergone some new and delightful changes. A new director was added along with a new twist in the children’s play, The Pale Pink Dragon, which was presented to an enchanted audience of children as well as adults. The Players each year present the student body with several student directed plays. This year there was a wide variation of talents as well as play material. The Agathon Players are a dedicated group of people with one thought in mind—to entertain.

“Hark! Squire Thrush, she is beautifull!”

The American Field Service hosts a foreign exchange student assembly each year in an effort to familiarize Everman students with the customs of other countries. The exchange students visit classes the entire day, answering questions and demonstrating native arts. AFS also contributes to funds used to bring exchange students to the US.

Members of the Future Teachers' Association learn of job opportunities, college requirements, and related fields in the teaching profession. As sponsor, Mrs. Larison assigns them as teacher aids and freshman test proctors.

The Name of the Game: SPIRIT

All Bulldog Cheerleaders are elected by popular vote of the student body. Varsity cheerleaders begin work by attending the week-long SMU cheerleading school. Last summer they won several awards including permanent possession of the spirit stick. A new first in spirit this year is the group of Junior Varsity Cheerleaders who cheer for those games. Together with other cheerleaders, the Freshmen cheerleaders work year round to back the teams, decorate the school before games, plan pep rallies, and keep school spirit at a fervent pitch.

CLASSES

Grade Overruled by Personal Similarities

Class divisions of senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman subordinate as individuals compose a student body, brought together by common desires for knowledge, fun, and friends. Class competition, whether in floats or yells, loses importance as the thrill of participation benefits all. Involvement brings satisfaction to those whose interest introduced them to new people and new experiences.

Sophs Introduce a New Year

After hours of hard work, Jack and the Beanstalk proudly transports Homecoming Queen, Susan Polk.

Jeff Crabaugh and Lesa Wilkinson are voted favorites.

Sophomore English classes were asked to give advantages of attending Everman High School. The results were comic, startling, yet truthful . . .

. . . Having fun at football games even if we don't win . . .

. . . Being able to wear whatever you think is suitable for school, as long as it passes inspection of the deans . . .

. . . Having teachers say at the beginning of school they are understanding and then by the end of the first quarter they're ready to give you to another teacher . . .

. . . Having a school name to put on my class ring and diploma . . .

. . . Being able to walk into the restrooms and not catching cancer because of the cigarette smoke you breathe . . .

. . . Getting into an argument or discussion in class that doesn't even pertain to what you're studying . . .

. . . Having assemblies to relieve the tension of your teachers . . .

. . . Cramming for exams and finding out the teacher made a mistake and you're exempt after all . . .

. . . Graduating from a school that you've grown to love and knowing that you have learned something and made many friends . . .

Class officers are Joel Fitzek,
Beth Glaze, and Marius
Hicks.

Small and uncrowded, Everman High School possesses many advantages not found in surrounding school districts. The amity of the student body encourages a rapport between individual students and teachers. Racial tension is at a minimum; bus-sing is unnecessary.

Students at Everman have the special privileges of cokebreaks, a smoking area, and a newly revised dress code. Cokebreaks offer the opportunity to relax, to visit with friends, or to enjoy a smoke in the "designated area". The dress code has been altered to allow most of the latest styles.

Assemblies are scheduled to instruct and entertain students. Holidays are celebrated with an assembly, and the student council sponsors special days to boost school spirit and interest by asking students to dress in compliance with a theme such as Nostalgia or Halloween.

Clubs, classes, and administration are dedicated to continuing the improvement of Everman High School through involvement in school activities and open communication between students and faculty. The greatest advantage of EHS is the ability of affecting changes for the betterment of the school peacefully and intuitively.

Having teachers who really care enough to get enthused over school activities and class work

Experiencing a new life on dress-up days like Nostalgia Day and Spring Fever Week

Enjoying your own football stadium without sharing with another school

Being able to race in the parking lot because the school is in Fort Worth and the Everman police can't do anything

Not wasting time with bussing

Getting to take photography and driver's ed

Not having a big drug problem in our school

Studying auto mechanics or office machines at TCJC

Having a good superintendent with a liberal mind, ready to see everyone's point of view

Riding the bus to school instead of walking

Having an air-conditioner

Having less restrictions because it is easier to discipline a smaller school

Not having racial tensions

Having plenty of food (even if you can't tell what it is)

Being able to smoke without sneaking in the restrooms

Being able to go in the restroom without suffocating

Having a great drill team and cheerleaders to keep up your spirit

Seeing current movies for fifty cents

Having a good heater even if the President said we could not use it

Having so many clubs that everyone can find something to interest them

Not being overcrowded

A practice field where the band and drill team can practice with out ruining the grass field

Not worrying about being late because it doesn't take you an hour to walk around the school

Not getting lost easily because there are only three halls

A well-stocked library that's run by a librarian who knows her business

Having teachers that can take it as well as dish it out

The opaque projector enlarges example essays for Sophomore student writers

Great place for students who want to learn though I'm not one of them

Having a good lighting system

It would be better with open campus

Teachers let you do homework in class

Getting out for Stock Show Day

You don't get beat up as much because you know all the jokers and make friends with them

Having pepper alleys

No policemen in the halls

Teachers aren't very strict or hard, they just get the job done

Exemptions from tests

School is only what the students make it

1974

In the sea of faces comprising the FRESHMEN are individuals with their own ways and actions. As they accustom themselves to high school, they begin to participate in the many phases of student life. They, too, are members of changing times!

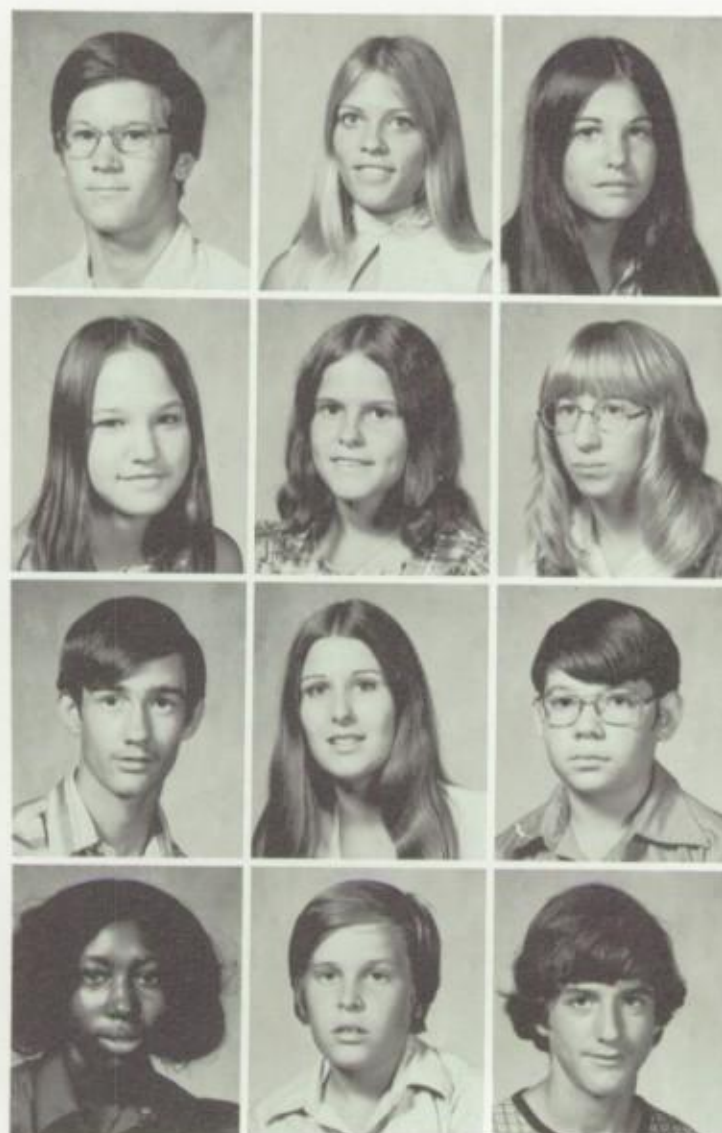

Chosen as the Freshman Favorites are Teresa Dyer and David Marino.

Freshmen officers: Pres. Junior Ray; Vice-Pres. DeeDee Farris; Sec. Kim Ashcraft; Tres. Chris Andrews.

The women in the office:

Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Coker, and Mrs.
Barnes

Every experience teaches a lesson.
Every class opens a door to learning.

Every teacher strives for understanding and participation.

Every lesson is related to the expansion of ones mind.

Below: The Everman Shopping Village on Mallick Parkway offers a one-stop shopping trip.

Taking orders at the P-TA concession stand can be confusing.

ADS & INDEX

Businesses Return Support Through Advertisement

A growing community attracts the establishment of new area businesses and increases the patronage of existent ones. New homes attract residents who contribute to the welfare of businesses in Everman and the surrounding areas. Ads provide a means for these businesses to express appreciation of student support.

A product of community growth is greater school enrollment. In striving to identify the many students, the Beacon has added an index to aid in quick location of each person.

Collectors of football trading cups add to the business of the nearby 7-Eleven.

CLOSING

For the 950 students who helped write the story of this year, the end came eventually—and yet, too soon. Feelings of excitement and joy mingled with those of boredom and disappointment to produce varied moods, reactions, and expressions. Accumulated experiences, both nationally and locally, provided unique impressions reflecting a progressive society.

Waiting for the bell relieves the monotony of school routine.

To: A friend that I've enjoyed through school, I've had ups and downs, but we are still tight. Stay cool and sweet and you'll be a senior
